

Drawn by God

The purpose of this document is to explain how it is fair for Jesus to be the only way. God is good. Because he is good, he cannot be blamed for our predicament. To help understand our predicament and his goodness, God has given us truth. Truth comes to us in the form of our conscience, our view of God's wonderful creation, and our experience with God's chosen people distributed all over the world. Even though they may not deserve it any more than we do, he has blessed them. We know he has blessed them because of the prophetic historic truth of their scriptures. Through those scriptures God has over and over proven that he controls all authority, that God is the King of kings. Those scriptures explain our predicament, and that explanation rings true with our views of truth. Those scriptures say that no one comes to Jesus that is not drawn by God. If you love a father then you will love his son. In other words, to come to Jesus, you have to love his Father, and if you love God, he will draw you to his Son.

First We Must Love God

It is fair because God draws those who love him to his Son. He even draws us to love him (which in the end he will do for everyone) even those he is using now for evil. If he has drawn us, our views of truth give us what we need to love God. Plus, the Scriptures (the word of God) give us what we need to love God. In more detail, they explain who God is. To know him is to love him. They also explain our predicament, and that explanation rings true to our view of truth. Promising a savior from our predicament, they say we shall "all" be taught by God. If you love a father, you will love his son. To everyone who loves God, he will draw us to his Son our Savior. What if we are shy? What if we refuse to Love God, or what if we never get a chance? Don't worry, in the end we "all" will Love God. Why not enjoy him and worship him now? It is fair because God draws all who love him to his Son, and his Son is his way we will "all" be saved from death.

Summary: Drawn by God

The purpose of this document was to explain how it is fair for Jesus to be the only way. Truth proves that God is good and cannot be blamed for our predicament. Truth comes to us in the form of our conscience, our view of God's wonderful creation, and our experience with God's chosen people distributed all over the world. Even though they may not deserve it any more than we do, he has blessed them. We know he has blessed them because of the prophetic truth of their scriptures. Through the historical nature of those scriptures God has over and over proven that he controls all authority, that God is the King of kings. Those scriptures explain our predicament, and that explanation rings true with all our views of truth. Those scriptures say that no one comes to Jesus that is not drawn to him by God. If you love a father then you will love his son. In other words, to come to Jesus, you have to love his Father, and if you love God, he will draw you to his Son our Savior. It is fair because God has revealed himself to us through truth; and if we love him, he will draw us to Jesus.