

Faith Measurement is What We Pray

Faith Measurement is What We Pray

The purpose of this document is to define Faith Measurement as the subject of our prayers. My purpose is Power Measurement. With Power Measurement I build business models that support decision making. These business models define business including responsibility and authority.

Faith is Power Measurement

Power Measurement includes our faith in God's business, his business of Creation, Preservation, and Authority. In other words it includes our fear of God, our faith in his finished work on the Cross, and our faith in our current work in his Body the Church. Faith is Power Measurement.

Faith Measurement: The Subject of our Prayers

We are called to pray for our faith. For example: like Anna and Simeon we are called to pray for Bible prophecies before they happen. But, we are also called to pray for personal prophecies before they happen. In other words, besides what we read in the Bible, faith is also what to us through our heart God has personally communicated. We are called to continue to pray for our personal hearts desire. From this type of begging or beseeching prayer we receive the gift of belief. Faith measurement is the subject of our prayers.

The Heart Examination Lamp

Faith is Power Measurement, an objective description of the content of our heart. Power Measurement is a thinking tool that reminds us the various strategic relationships involved whenever someone is helping someone else with the help of others. With the Baptism of the Holy Spirit, we have a lamp for examining our heart. Our prayer is the description of the contents of our heart. When praying, we describe our heart strategically or objectively rather than tactically or subjectively. For example: we want to believe the mountain will be moved for us, and how or when is not our problem. Walking by faith, we know what we have been called to pray for, and from the Scriptures we have faith God is also speaking to others. So, we pray for their position and authority, many times not knowing them personally. Faith Measurement begins with a lamp aided heart examination, and ends with a strategic prayer.

Summary: Faith Measurement: What We Pray

The purpose of this document is to define Faith Measurement as the subject of our prayers. Faith is power measurement. It includes our fear of God, our faith in his finished work on the Cross and his current work in his Body the Church. We are called to pray for our faith. Besides what we read in the Bible, faith is also what to us through our heart God has personally communicated. We are called to continue to pray for our personal hearts desire. From this type of begging or beseeching prayer we receive the gift of belief. Faith measurement is the subject of our prayers.