

God-phobic

The purpose of this document is to define a new word: “God-phobic”. Every time I hear the word homophobic for me I think it is a misnomer. Personally, I am not at all afraid of any homos. Nor am I afraid of any other people who sin directly against God. Nor do I have anything against them. What goes on behind closed doors is not my business, so I am not interested. I am only interested in the people God has put directly across my path as I go about my business. Many of them sin directly against God, violating the first commandments. However, my fear is of the curses, curses that will come to me from God if I pretend that those sins are OK. In other words, God’s Word says if I pretend they are OK, I am also guilty of the same type of sin, and sins directly against God are special. He gives us a reason those commandments are first.

Homophobic

Homophobia is the fear of homos. More specifically, I believe it is generally understood as the fear that homosexuality is contagious. Wikipedia defines Homophobia as a range of negative attitudes and feelings toward homosexuality or people who are identified or perceived as being lesbian, gay, bisexual or transgender \(LGBT\). Definitions refer variably to antipathy, contempt, prejudice, aversion, irrational fear, and hatred.<sup>[1][2][3][4]</sup> My new word “God-phobic” is only for people who fear God. Those people believe God is in control of everything we people fear. Therefore, God-phobic people do not fear or hate any types of people. But, since many people do not fear God, the word homophobic is still useful in describing people who fear homos.

The Special Category of Sin

Sins directly against God do not harm other people. For example: a rapist sins against another person, but a slut sins against God. As a God-phobic person I like sluts, but my respect for God (his purpose of over population, his blessings, and his curses) requires I never publically stand for the right of the slut to be a slut. If I do (no matter how much I like the slut) I am just as guilty as the slut. Sins against God are special for several reasons: 1. They desecrate the image of God. 2. They are the sins for which God completely destroyed Sodom and the five city area the size of a small state. 3. They are the sins for which God vowed to completely destroy the peoples (including little children) inhabiting Canaan. 4. They violate the first commandments. 5. They are the definition of evil. 6. They are the sins for which there is no intercessor.

Summary: God-phobic

The purpose of this document is to define a new word: “God-phobic”. For God fearing people, the word homophobic is a misnomer. They like homos and sluts (even people that are into less popular things like bestiality), but they fear the curses that will come if they pretend sins against God are OK, so they are God-phobic.
