

Psalms by Name

The purpose of this document is to index the Psalms the way they are in the Book of Common Prayer, but in English not Latin. I am doing this for my own use and putting it up on my website so I can get to it from my browser. I have a hard time with any type of memorization, and I want to be able to quickly get to the Psalms by their names. First I will list them by number with their names linked to the actual psalm. Then I will list them by name and put that list on top sorted alphabetically. There is probably a link somewhere out there that does this already, but I have not found it.

Psalms by Name, Type and Number

Here is a link to the best way to index Psalms by Name, the way they are in the Book of Common Prayer, but in English not Latin. This link is Psalms by Name Spreadsheet Workbook (with those English Names) as an Excel workbook. Besides this workbook there are also three Adobe PDFs, one for each spreadsheet in the workbook: 1 Psalms by Specific Name; 2 Psalms by General Type; and 3 Psalms by Number.

Summary: Psalms by Name

The purpose of this document is to index the Psalms the way they are in the Book of Common Prayer, but in English not Latin. First I will list them by number with their names linked to the actual psalm. Then I will list them by name and put that list as the first sheet of the Excel Workbook sorted alphabetically. While doing this project I discovered some General Names so I have included that sort also. They help understand the psalm, but they do not help me remember the Psalm and associate it with its number as well as the Specific Names.
