Truth

The purpose of this document is to define truth. Truth is the difference between Biblical Christianity and all other religions, or the difference between God's Wisdom and human wisdom. For example: Truth rings true to our innermost conscience; Truth (like Science) agrees with our view of reality; and most important, prophetic truth proves that God is to be feared. In other words, he really does control all authority, and prophetic truth is proven by his story or history.

The Law Written on our Hearts – Our Conscience

Since our inner self defines truth, Biblical Law rings true. In other words, because every person is born with a conscience, the first time we hear the Law it rings true or agrees with our conscience. Truth separates the Law from all other human ethics. In other words, there is a discernable difference between God's Wisdom and human wisdom, because man's idea of good and evil (however it changes) will never be true to our inner self.

The Star of David – Our King

The earliest science (the study of the stars and planets) proves truth. The brightest star (which was actually a conjunction of planets with a special star on top) announced the birth of Jesus Christ by appearing over his birthplace at the time of his birth (an experiment we can repeat today). The meaning of that star came from the meaning of the Zodiac. So, logically it came from Adam who (created complete) did not have to learn from God. Because that bright star's meaning foretold the exact time of the birth of a future Judean king, it was later called the Star of David. The latest science (like the absence of randomness in the universe) also proves true.

The City of David – The Peace of Jerusalem and Judea

History proves truth. In the 1860's Mark Twain made fun of the Holy Land in his book Innocents Abroad. At that time it was anything but "The Land of Milk and Honey". Even Jerusalem was dead from Twain's viewpoint. In mocking Christianity, he describes the Jews who were there at that time. Soon after that time Jewish people for a very cheap price began to formally re-purchase their promised land. Today, the whole world is focused on their right to be in Jerusalem and the West Bank or Judea. History says every country that has resisted that return to Judea has suffered greatly. We are commanded by God to support God's People, their return, and pray for the peace of Jerusalem.
